

Our technological process capabilities are endless. It goes to separating the round peanut from the long ones "consistently".

